

Regulatory Alert – Argentina

Local testing requirements for Cellular Devices set to be introduced by the end of 2017

The Argentinean Regulator, Ente Nacional de Comunicaciones (ENACOM), is set to introduce new local testing requirements for the Type Approval of Cellular Devices. These requirements are expected to come into force by the end of 2017.

ENACOM have yet to announce a confirmed implementation date for the new requirements, as well as a date for when the new standard will be released.

PCS will continue to monitor the situation and will keep customers updated once further information has been obtained.

For additional information regarding this alert, please contact:

Rohit Nanwani

Product Compliance Specialists

Email: rohit@productcompliancespecialists.com

Date of Issue: 20th September 2017