

Regulatory Alert - Mexico

Mexico City affected by earthquake – Delays to Type Approval highly likely

Due to the strong earthquake that struck Mexico City on 19th September 2017, delays to Type Approval are highly likely for all Applications currently under review.

Mexican RF body Instituto Federal de Telecomunicaciones (IFT) has already announced it will be closed for inspection of structural damage to their buildings. During this period, no Type Approval applications will be able to be submitted to IFT and applications currently under review are expected to be delayed.

PCS will remain aware of any developments and will keep customers updated as soon as further information is known.
